RPE 10-3-1966

7 May, 1966.

Col. A. J. A. Galloway,
187 Billings Ave.,
St. Catharines, Ontario.

Dear Colonel:

I am a member of the National Genealogical Society, and in the recent quarterly I note your booklet on The Galloways of Linnoch, co. Perth, Scotland. I am, therefore, enclosing m. c. for $1.50, plus postage, and request, please, that you forward me a copy.

My interest stems from the fact that my third great-grandfather, Lieut. George Galloway, a Loyalist, settled in Kingston, Ont., in 1784. He undoubtedly came from the Scottish settlement in New Jersey in the 16th-17th century. Although I doubt very much that he stems from the Linnoch branch, anything dealing with the Galloway family is of interest to me.

My wife, however, does stem from the early Galloways through the Stewarts, by way of Quincy, Conyn and de Stuteville. Thus, your booklet will be of great interest to us.

We look forward to the receipt of The Galloways of Linnoch.

Yours sincerely,

Dict. National Biography.

Galloway, Patrick (1551? - 1626?), Scottish divine, was in 1576 appointed minister of the parishes of Foulis Easter and Longforn.

James Galloway, 6th child of George & Rebecca Jenkin Galloway, was born in Lancaster County, Pa., May 1st, 1750. Some sources claim that he was second son of George of Scotland, but, from all the data I have been able to gather, it seems he was 4th son and 6th child. This is the way John Martin Stroup and Raymond Martin Bell in "Pioneers of Mifflin County before 1790." place James Galloway in the family lineage.
